

LET'S TALK:

Share Your Professional Experience:

South Asian Children Exposed to Intimate Partner Violence

Exploring the unique needs and responses of children exposed to IPV

WHAT IS IPV? "Any behavior within an intimate relationship that causes physical, psychological, or sexual harm to those in that relationship" (WHO, 2012)

ARE YOU:

- A practicing registered social worker (RSW), registered clinical counsellor (RCC), Canadian certified counsellor (CCC), or registered psychologist (R. Psych)?
- Currently registered as part of a licensing body within B.C and in good standing?
- Working/have worked directly with South Asian children exposed to intimate partner violence?
- Someone who has two or more years of experience working with this population?
- Someone who works in the Metro-Vancouver region?
- Feel comfortable speaking in generality about your professional experience in terms of how IPV exposure impacts South Asian children?
- Comfortable being interviewed in English?
- Available for 60-90 minutes to talk with me about your experience?
- Someone who has access to the internet, and are willing to use free Microsoft Teams video software?

If you answered YES to the questions above, please contact me for more info:

* BE ENTERED IN A RAFFLE SYSTEM TO WIN A $100 VISA GIFT CARD***

This study has been approved by the Adler University (Vancouver Campus) Research Ethics Board

Manroop Maan, Doctor of Psychology (PsyD) Student at Adler University, Vancouver Campus

Email: mmaan@adler.edu

This student is being supervised by Dr. Manal Guirguis-Younger, Doctor of Psychology (PsyD) program at Adler University, Vancouver Campus

Email: mguirguis-younger@adler.edu