

Are you a BC healthcare worker that has been affected by your experiences of the COVID-19 pandemic and the ongoing health human resource crisis in BC healthcare?

If so, you may be interested in our study

The Trust Initiative is a collaborative research project on the topic of healthcare worker trust in the healthcare system. The aim is to find fact, not fault, to identify system-wide recommendations, and to support healthcare workers and leaders in providing the highest standard of care across our province.

What would you be asked to do?

- Complete an online survey that takes approximately 10-20 min to complete
- Share experiences of trust that you have encountered in the workplace

More information is available at: trustinitiative.ca

Survey QR Code:

Primary Contact:

Dr. Nickolas J. Cherwinski njcherwinski@uvic.ca

This project has received ethical approval through the University of Victoria (Ethics Protocol Number 23-0488-01)